MISSION STATEMENT

The Black Student Society (BSS) is an official student organization of the Chicago School of Professional Psychology, Chicago Campus (TCSPP-C). The mission of the BSS is to foster community and relationships among Black graduate students and others across The Chicago School of Professional Psychology programs. This mission is built to create learning opportunities for students of color that may not be available otherwise. The formation of cultural bridges amongst students of color offers a sense of normalcy and unity that allows for growth in new experiences.
