

Chicago | Dallas | Southern California | TCSPP @ XULA | Washington, D.C. | Online

TCSPP is excited to announce an opportunity for our students to take part in short-term, professional, paid work experiences through Micro-Internships.

Through Micro-Internships, you can demonstrate their skills, explore career paths, and develop their professional networks. Unlike a traditional internship, these paid opportunities typically range from 5 to 40 hours of work, and many can be completed remotely.

Not only does this help the companies, but it allows you to provide immediate support on tasks and network with alumni and professionals. In addition, by engaging these companies earlier, you can help enhance your work experience for future internships and career options.

Micro-Internships can include projects across all departments, including:

- Sales
- Human Resources
- Strategy
- Marketing
- Research
- Operations and Support
- Finance and Accounting

To learn more and apply to projects, visit <https://info.parkerdewey.com/thechicagoschool> and create a profile to get started.