The information shared above is self-reported data collected between June 2011 and December 2012 via a survey e-mailed to all alumni of The Chicago School of Professional Psychology.

This information is intended to serve as a sample of the types of positions and employers in which graduates of the program work. It in no way guarantees that future graduates will secure employment with the employer or in the job titles listed. In particular, it is important to note that some job titles require state-specific licensure. When considering enrollment in a particular program offered by The Chicago School of Professional Psychology, students are expected to be aware of whether their program of interest is licensure eligible and, if so, the licensing requirements in the state in which they intend to work.
