

Install SPSS Statistics for Windows

The installation process for all supported versions is nearly identical; the only thing that changes is the version number itself.

1. Download the appropriate SPSS installer for your version of Windows from the <https://community.thechicagoschool.edu/technicalservices/Pages/Software.aspx>
2. After download, double-click the installer to launch it. The installer may take a few minutes to fully launch.
3. After launch, the installer will report that it is extracting files. Allow it to continue. The extraction screen may disappear and reappear more than once.
4. After extraction is complete, the SPSS Statistics InstallShield Wizard will launch. At the first screen, click Next.
5. Click the radio button accepting the terms of the IBM License Agreement. Click Next.
6. Choose whether you wish to install SPSS Statistics Essentials for Python. We recommend you install this. Click the radio button next to your choice, then click Next.
7. If you chose to install SPSS Essentials for Python, accept the license terms and click Next.
8. Accept the terms of the license for SPSS Statistics and click Next.
9. Choose an installation folder location. We recommend you choose the default location. Click Next.
10. The installer will verify that the installation location has sufficient space to install. After it passes this check, click the Install button. The installer will take several minutes to run.
11. When the installer has completed, click Finish.
12. IBM SPSS Statistics should then automatically launch. On the Registration screen, choose the second option and click the License Product button.
13. The SPSS License Authorization Wizard should launch and display the License Status window. The windows should show a two-week trial license. Click Next.
14. In the Product Authorization windows, choose standalone license.

15. Enter the SPSS Authorization Code that is provided in <https://community.thechicagoschool.edu/technicalservices/Pages/SPSS-License.aspx>
16. The authorization window will attempt to authorize your copy of SPSS Statistics over the Internet. If successful, it will display the message: Successfully processed all codes. Click Next.
17. The Licensing Completed window should then show your product expiration date as the final date of the current license term. Click Finish.

Your copy of SPSS Statistics is installed and activated. It now should be ready for use.
