I. POLICY STATEMENT

The Chicago School is committed to creating and maintaining a safe learning and working environment that is free of unlawful discrimination, harassment, exploitation, or intimidation. As such, The Chicago School prohibits sex discrimination, which can include discrimination based on pregnancy, family, marital, or parental status in admissions, educational programs and activities, hiring, leave policies, and employment policies.

Under the Title IX regulation, an institution that receives federal funding “shall not discriminate against any student, or exclude any student from its education program or activity, including any class or extracurricular activity, on the basis of such student’s pregnancy, childbirth, false pregnancy, termination of pregnancy, or recovery therefrom.” Per the regulation, appropriate treatment of a pregnant student includes granting the student leave “for so long a period of time as is deemed medically necessary by the student’s physician,” and then effectively reinstating the student to the same status as was held when the leave began.

Pregnancy is typically treated similarly to a temporary disability. Under this policy, a student will be given appropriate accommodations that may include, but are not limited to: an opportunity to make up missed work (e.g., papers, quizzes, tests, presentations, and other assignments), extended deadlines, independent study, online course completion or remote attendance, assignment of Incomplete grade. To the extent possible, The Chicago School will take reasonable steps to ensure that pregnant students who take a leave return to the same position of academic progress that they were in when the leave began, including access to the same Academic Catalog. The Title IX Coordinator or designee has the authority to determine that such accommodations are necessary and appropriate and to inform faculty members of the need to adjust academic parameters accordingly.

Information about a pregnant student’s request for accommodation will be shared with faculty and staff only to the extent necessary to provide reasonable accommodation. Faculty and staff will regard all information associated with such requests as confidential and will not disclose this information unless necessary. Administrative responsibility for these accommodations lies with the Title IX Coordinator or designee, who will maintain all appropriate documentation related to accommodations.

A student seeking accommodations under this policy should contact the Title IX Coordinator to devise a plan for how to best address their needs including anticipating the need for leave, minimizing academic impact, and getting back on track as efficiently and effectively as possible. In situations including but not limited to thesis, dissertation, field experience, study abroad, residency, internship, practicum, clinical rotations, or labs, an alternative path to completion will be developed, where practicable. In progressive curricular and/or cohort-model programs, medically necessary leaves are sufficient cause to permit the student to shift course order, substitute similar courses, or join a subsequent cohort when returning from leave.

This policy covers only the pregnant student during pregnancy and for post-pregnancy related conditions and does not cover non-birth-parent(s) or the resulting child(ren).

II. POLICY SCOPE

This policy applies to all aspects of TCSPP’s program, including, but not limited to, admissions, educational programs and activities, extracurricular activities, hiring, leave policies, and employment policies.

- b. Pregnancy and Pregnancy-Related Conditions: include but are not limited to pregnancy, childbirth, false pregnancy, termination of pregnancy, conditions arising in connection with pregnancy, and recovery from any of these conditions.

- c. Students with pregnancy-related disabilities, like any student with a short-term or temporary disability, are entitled to reasonable accommodations so that they will not be disadvantaged in their courses of study or research.
- d. No artificial deadlines or time limitations will be imposed on requests for accommodations, but The Chicago School may be limited in its ability to impact or implement accommodations retroactively.

  - 7. Allowing breastfeeding students reasonable time and space to pump breast milk in a location that is private, clean, and reasonably accessible. Bathroom stalls do not satisfy this requirement.

Nothing in this policy requires modification to the essential elements of any academic program. Pregnant students cannot be channeled into an alternative program or school against their wishes.

V. TIME OFF FROM SCHOOL

- a. As long as students can maintain appropriate academic progress, faculty, staff, or other Chicago School employees will not require them to take a leave of absence, withdraw from, or limit their studies as the result of pregnancy, childbirth, or related conditions, but nothing in this policy requires modification of the essential elements of any academic program.

Enrolled students may elect to take time off from school for up to the length of time authorized under the Leave of Absence policy or Temporary Withdrawal policy because of pregnancy and related conditions. The duration of time off may be extended in cases of extenuating circumstances or medical necessity.
- c. Students taking time off from school under this policy will provide notice of their intent to do so 30 calendar days prior to the initiation of leave, or as soon as practicable.
- d. Intermittent leave may be available when medically necessary. The Title IX Coordinator or designee will work with the academic department to determine the parameters of intermittent leave.
- e. If a student elects to drop a course under this policy, a non-punitive grade will be assigned in the course, and the student will be refunded applicable course tuition and fees.
- f. To the extent possible, The Chicago School will take reasonable steps to ensure that students returning from leave will be reinstated to their program in the same status as when the leave began, with no financial penalty.
- g. Continuation of students' scholarships, fellowships, or similar Chicago School-sponsored funding during the leave term will depend on the students' registration status and the policies of the funding program regarding registration status. Students will not be negatively impacted by or forfeit their future eligibility for scholarships, fellowships, or similar Chicago School-supported funding by exercising their rights under this policy. A Title IX representative will advocate for students with respect to financial aid agencies and external scholarship providers in the event that a leave of absence places eligibility into question.
- h. Absence from class or missing coursework deadlines due to child care restrictions are not accommodated under this policy.
